

Community College Healthcare Opportunities

The value of community college partners in addressing labor shortages is unparalleled. Here are healthcare opportunities that our local community colleges offer:

Bunker Hill Community College

- Single Stop connects BHCC students to good jobs while they complete their education. This service also offers financial supports and wraparound services.
- BHCC offers many healthcare certificate programs including a Medical Assistant, Medical Interpreting, Patient Care Tech, Paramedic, Medical Imaging, Medical Laboratory Science, Pharmacy Technology, and Surgical Technology Certificates. The Boston Welcome Back Center assists nurses trained in other countries to become registered nurses in MA.

MassBay Community College

- MassBay's Health Science programs provide students with hands-on learning in well-equipped classrooms and laboratories, as well as field experience in hospitals and clinics; offering certificate programs within healthcare such as an EMT program, medical coding, phlebotomy, and more
- Associate in Science Degree Programs include: Nursing, a Radiologic Tech (Day) program, a Radiologic Tech (Flex) program, and a Surgical Tech program.

Middlesex Community College

- MCC provides mandatory overview sessions for some of their health programs, including dental assisting, dental hygiene, diagnostic medical sonography, nursing, and radiologic technology.
- The Academy of Health Professions evening/weekend program includes medical billing / coding and phlebotomy.

Roxbury Community College

- RCC offers diverse candidates many workforce development programs including: Nursing, Radiology Tech, Phlebotomy, Medical Assisting, Pharmacy Tech, Medical Billing, and Registered Behavioral Tech.
- Recently, RCC applied to the Department of Public Health to become a provider of Certified Nursing Training.